JLCP 790
Practicum in Justice, Law, and Crime Policy

Topic Description

This course is a student initiated research project supervised by a faculty member. The student must work with a justice organization to conduct research that will be useful to that organization and/or other policy makers and practitioners. Research may be descriptive or explanatory.

Course Prerequisite

JLCP 780 and either STAT 510 and 535 or STAT 554 and STAT 656 or instructor’s permission.

Course Objectives and Learning Methods

The objective of the course is to provide the student with research experience in a nature field setting addressing research questions of genuine interest to a justice organization or the policy community. The learning methods will be experiential and will require the student to initiate assistance from the instructor.

Course Requirements and Grading

To be determined by the instructor and student. Both written and oral presentation of the research to the agency is encouraged.

Assigned Text/Readings

To be determined by the instructor and student.

Outline of Topics

Not applicable.
